"Dynamic Social Security"

Mutual Entities Collaborators with Social Security

This Mutual entities are voluntary private associations of employers, with their own legal personality and full capacity to act to fulfill their objectives.

They are non-profit organizations, in which employers act jointly, based on the principle of solidarity, and through which, in the exercising of their responsibility, collaborate in the management of public services of Social Security.

In the context of the 2016 Presidency of the European Forum, the Association of Mutual Entities of Accidents at Work (AMAT) is organizing the 2016 International Conference of the European Forum.

Building on the 2016 Conference will take into account the modern world of work and its impact on the insurance systems in fulfilling their tasks, from prevention and health at work all the way to rehabilitation and re-to work.

Moreover, the conference will focus on the common challenges of the clearing systems of workers in different parts of the world and present their responses and innovative approaches.

To ensure a broad exchange of experiences, experts from different parts of Europe, America and Asia have been invited to share their views and best practices.
